Coleman Red Cross Sets Itself a $2000 Objective

Council Passes Protest Against Beer Restrictions

Some Youngsters Source of Trouble; New Councillors Take
Oath of Office

The first meeting of the new council was held in the council chamber, on Monday evening. Mayor Fred Antrobus and councillors Dutil, Jenkins and Lowe took the oath of office. Present Mayor Antrobus, Councillors Abousafy, Cox, Dutil, Jenkins and Ramsay.

The "Thank You" letter received from the West Coleman ratepayers for flood control work was received and filed. Council expressed its sincere appreciation for the letter as it showed that the ratepayers in question realize the amount of groundwork that had been done by the councillors and the co-operation received by the principal parties involved in eliminating floods in future in this part of town.

A "Thank You" letter was received from Mrs. Henry Raymond who voiced her appreciation for the help given her family in the past. Since she has now secured employment she informed council that no further help would be required.

Considerable discussion arose over the subject of some teenage youths writing obscene language on buildings within the town, especially on main street. The filthy remarks are written in chalk. A determined effort will be made by the police to catch the guilty parties and bring them into court.

Fairly lengthy discussion arose over the ash collections and fees in the business section. The result was that contractor A. Fraser had to collect from all persons in the designated district and refund to the town the $4.80 received from each of the approximately fifteen householders residing in suites over business places.

One councillor brought forth discussion on the beer supply facing which prevails in Alberta at the present time. Several councillors gave their personal opinions on the matter and it ended up with a strong protest being passed unanimously that the Mackenzie King government be informed that Coleman town council protested against present beer regulations and were in accord with lifting all present restrictions on beer or in lieu of that to equalize provincial quotas.

The report of the Returning Officer was received and filed. Two old age pensions were confirmed.

Assessor Charles May confirmed council's wish that no land assessment be made here this year.

Chief Mines Inspector Crawford, of Edmonton, notified council that he intended visiting Coleman shortly.

Committees of various departments were elected, those being: Works & Property committee—Councillors Dutil, Abousafy &

MISS CANADAS SELL $107.75 IN WAR STAMPS SATURDAY

Possibly a record was made by the local Miss Canadas on Saturday when their total stamp sales reached the $107.75 mark. Six of the young misses were on the job and had very little difficulty reaching this wonderful total.

The local public is quite aware of the value of the accumulated savings in the regular purchase of war stamps and as a result the job of selling is made easier for the sales girls.

Those on the job on Saturday included Mary Hopkins, Frances Dibblee, Corinne Fraser, Shirley Hubert, Yvonne Mayata and Betty Hillary.

Roland Pinkney Died at Portland Last Saturday

R. Pinkney

Roland Pinkney, well known business man of Blairmore, died at Saturday afternoon at Portland, Ore. where he had gone for special medical treatment.

The late Mr. Pinkney was born in Frank in 1907 and was a graduate in commerce of the University of Alberta. He was a partner and accountant in the large F. M. Thompson Company store here, the two other partners being P. M. Thompson and Harold Pinkney, brother of the deceased.

Deceased was a member of Central United church board here, secretary of the Sunday school, secretary of the Rocky Mountain squadron of the Air Cadets and a Past Master of the Blairmore Masonic lodge. For a number of years he played on the Blairmore hockey and baseball teams and in recent years had been an enthusiastic backer of sports for boys and girls.

He is survived by his wife and two small sons, Robert Brice and John Michael; his mother, Mrs. F. M. Pinkney, one only sister, Mrs. R. Harper at Winnipeg, and his brother Harold. The funeral, which will be Masonic, will be held Thursday afternoon

Will Follow Same System As Last Year; Canvass Mines and Business Places; Campaign Now In Progress

Annual Meeting Held on Tuesday; W. Dutil Elected President For Fifth Year; 1943 State Re-Elected.

Coleman branch of the Canadian Red Cross will ignore the quota given it by provincial headquarters in the present national appeal and has set itself the task of raising $2,000. This figure was raised last year and a determined effort will be made to accomplish the feat once again.

At the annual meeting held in the council chamber Tuesday evening the campaign was discussed in detail. Records proved that the system of canvassing the mines and gaining the two companies' co-operation was the best and President Dutil and Miss A. Yuill were chosen as a committee to meet both union and companies and gain their consent to put the system in operation during the present campaign. Businessmen and those not connected with the mines can expect to be solicited by canvassers any day during the next two weeks.

The 1943 slate of officers were unanimously elected to office for 1944. As a result President W. Dutil is serving his fifth term as president of the local branch.

Donations of $100.00 from Coleman Salvage committee, $10 from the Catholic Ladies Aid and $5 from the Aid to Poland and Allies Committee were received and acknowledged.

A special meeting will be held to-morrow (Friday) evening at 8 o'clock for the purpose of hearing President Dutil and Miss Yuill's report.

Cpl. W. J. "Torchy" Peden Visited Coleman on Wednesday

Cpl. W. J. "Torchy" Peden of No. 4 Training Command, R.C.A.F. visited the cadets of "73" Squadron this week in connection with his duties as Physical Training and Drill Instructor.

Cpl. Peden is well known as Canada's outstanding six-day bicycle racer and has raced on the leading tracks of the United States and Europe.

Since enlisting in the R.C.A.F. Cpl. Peden has been placed in charge of Air Cadet Training and will receive a hearty welcome from all the boys under his wing.

LOCAL AIR CADETS SHOW PROGRESS

In the past month or two a number of the local Air Cadets were successful in passing cadet examinations set by Air Cadet Headquarters in Ottawa.

The successful candidates in the Signals examination were F/S Wm. Milley, Cpl. J. McIntyre, Cpl. J. Badzioch, Cpl. N. Hopkins, ACI T. Kryczka and ACI E. Jackson.

The cadets had to be able to send and receive messages by means of buzzer and the Aldis lamp. Average marks obtained by candidates was 79%.

F/S Milley, Cpl. Badzioch, Cpl. McIntyre and ACI Kryczka were also successful in passing the mathematics examinations.

Cadets who have attained their senior first aid certificates are F/S Milley, Cpl. McIntyre, ACI C. McIntyre and ACI T. Kryczka. These cadets are authorized to wear the St. John Ambulance badge on their uniforms.

The following cadets have successfully completed examinations for the St. John Ambulance Junior Certificate, ACI's Naylor, Fraser, Parkinson, E. Jackson and K. Jackson.

Many of the local cadets will soon be taking examinations in Administration and Airforce Law, Aircraft Recognition and Drill.

George Evans Re-Elected Board Chairman

New Board Met on Feb. 22; Elect Committees

The new school board held its first meeting on Feb. 22. Present, Trustees Evans, Holly, MacNeill, Stigler and Vasek. George Evans was re-elected chairman of the board.

Main business of the meeting was the election of committees, those being, Works and Property, Trustees MacNeill and Holly. Management: Trustees Evans, Stigler and Vasek.

A number of accounts were passed.

PARCELS FINALLY ARRIVE

While overseas Pte. Joe Zak travelled from one point to another so quickly that his mail never did catch up to him. Badly wounded in Sicily he was sent to North Africa then to Britain and later to a Toronto hospital where he is at the present time.

It was with great delight then that he received a letter from one of the nursing sisters at his English hospital telling him that twelve parcels addressed to him had arrived at the hospital on Christmas day, they being cigarette parcels, the Women's Auxiliary parcel and parcels from his family. The contents were distributed among other patients. Joe has now acknowledged the cigarettes and Ladies Auxiliary parcel by letter from Toronto.

Wm. Harrison Jr. Killed On Italian Battle Front

Sympathy of their many friends is extended to Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Harrison this week in the death of their youngest son, Pte. Wm. Harrison, whose death has been reported from the Italian front.

The parents were first notified by wire from Ottawa on Feb. 17 of the serious illness of their son. A wire the following morning advised them that his condition was still serious and on Feb. 25 the final wire was received informing them of his death.

Deceased was born in Coleman on Feb. 27, 1923, and was educated at the local schools. He worked for a little more than a year at McGillivray till before enlisting in the army on Feb. 16, 1943. In July he was sent overseas and in November was sent to North Africa. On Jan. 4 he went to the Italian front and had been in action since.

Prior to enlisting with the army he had made many vain attempts to enlist in the navy, the one branch of the service he really wanted to serve in.

This is Coleman's second young man to fall on the Italian front, Lawrence Jankulak having been fatally wounded on Dec. 28, 1943.

London — Germany's three "secret weapons" in this war have been the magnetic mine, the acoustic mine and the newest one, the magnetic torpedo. The first two were quickly defeated by British scientists, - it is reasonable to expect that Allied scientists will as quickly deal with the new weapon.

The Royal Society has awarded the Copley Medal to Sir Joseph Barcroft for his scientific experiments. On the occasion, he tested prussic acid by remaining in a gas-filled chamber with a dog. The dog died in less than a minute. Sir Joseph took notes and, nine minutes later, walked out. Before the war, he tested the force of blast by sitting in air-seal shelters while bombs were dropped close by.

Ledieu And Hoggan Winners of Local 'Spiel'

All Games Played Off at Week End; Spiel Voted a Grand Success; May be Annual Affair

The "Four Bit" 'spiel, or "amateur" 'spiel as some curlers have nicknamed it came to a successful conclusion last Sunday evening with Ed. Ledieu and Bill Hoggan rinks the big winners.

Ed. Ledieu waded through strong opposition in the preliminary rounds to meet Bill Antle's rink in the final. The first few ends were nip-and-tuck till Ledieu finally got a big end on Bill. After that the game was in the "bag". Bill Hoggan who had lost his first game to put him in the competition known as the Goats proved that he still had a strong rink and defeated Rippon in the final.

Prizes were donated by the businessmen and all rinks reaching the semi-finals received prizes.

The 'spiel was an unqualified success and may be made an annual event as it undoubtedly created much interest among many men who would never have given curling much thought.

WORLD'S DAY OF PRAYER SERVICE

The "World Day of Prayer" has become an established custom among the women of the church. This year the service was held on Feb. 25, when the ladies of the Women's Missionary Society of St. Paul's United church were in charge of arrangements. Ladies of the United church, the Church of England and the Salvation army combined to make the service a success.

Lead by Mrs. R. Holmes and Mrs. F. H. Graham the congregation joined in an inspiring service drawn up around the significance of the words "Gold", "Frankincense" and "Myrrh".

Mrs. G. A. Kettys gave the address of the evening, dealing with the text "And God wondered that there was no intercession".

During the service Mrs. F. Smith, Mrs. N. McKinnon and Miss M. Dunlop lead in prayer.

A very enjoyable part of the program was the singing of "The Garden of Prayer" by Mrs. J. Bell, accompanied by Mrs. V. Brown. Another musical item was supplied by the C.G.I.T. The group sang the C.G.I.T. Hymn—"Now we unite to pledge a new allegiance".

It was regretted that Mrs. Hague who was to have taken part in the service, was unable to do so on account of illness.

Food Production

PROBLEMS OF AGRICULTURE now, and in the post-war period, are of great interest at this time. Lord de la Warr, chairman of the Agricultural Research Council of Great Britain, toured Canada recently, and was present at the eighth annual meeting of the Canadian Federation of Agriculture, held in Quebec city. During his visit to this country, Lord de la Warr addressed a number of public gatherings, and he expressed the opinion that farmers have it in their power to bring about the lasting peace and the state of plenty which are among the things for which the United Nations are fighting. If, however, agriculture is to be encouraged to bring its potential production capacity to the maximum, he believes that farmers must be guaranteed fair and steady prices and that conditions of world trade must be improved.

Many Measures Are Suggested

A recent report tabled in the Canadian House of Commons by the Advisory Committee on Post-War Reconstruction contained an interesting section dealing with the future of agriculture. This part of the report was prepared by a sub-committee under the chairman-ship of Mr. Donald G. McKenzie of Winnipeg, Chief Commissioner of the Board of Grain Commissioners. It emphasized, as did Lord de la Warr, the need for improvement in world trade conditions, and for measures which will assure financial security for farmers. It also pointed out the value of co-operation in agriculture. Other measures recommended included: classification of farm lands by means of soil surveys; increased cultural and recreational facilities in rural areas; the encouragement of research to find new uses for farm products, and a farm housing plan.

Problems Is Now Fully Realized

The suggestions mentioned above are only a few of those contained in the report, which drew attention to the need for improved systems of rural credit, and dealt with many aspects of foreign and domestic marketing problems. Findings of the United Nations' Relief and Rehabilitation Administration showed clearly the importance of food production in restoring the world to peace and order, and Canada, as a great agricultural country, will be able to contribute much towards this essential undertaking. It is apparent, however, that many problems will arise and it is to be hoped that they will be worked out wisely, and that a proper balance may be established between the demand for food, and agricultural production. In the past, failure to establish this balance has been the cause of many of the world's difficulties, but now that the problem is fully realized, means may be found for solving it successfully.

Boys Well-Trained

Are Ready At Sixteen For German Front Line Service

In a report published in the Stockholm paper Aftonbladet regarding German sixteen-year-old boys in service at the front, this paper says that their training with the Hitler Jugend is so thorough that they require only one month's further training before they can be used for front line service. About one hundred thousand boys of ten to thirteen years of age will shortly be trained for intelligence service.

Bobby Leach, who successfully rode over Niagara Falls in a barrel, later slipped on an orange peel and broke his neck.

Price Control And Rationing Information

Q.—As a rural housewife, I find the distribution of non-rationed articles that are scarce most unfair. The stores in towns put things on their shelves at intervals but it is almost always the country people who go without as sometimes they only get to town once a week. Would not the rationing of all scarce foods be the solution?

A.—Scarcely as stocks of some of these articles are insufficient to provide more than the most infrequent and limited rations. Moreover, rationing is a difficult and costly process which the authorities are loath to expand. Further rationing would also add to the trials of retail merchants.

Q.—I read somewhere that the prices board had fixed ceilings for the sale of horse meat. Surely this does not mean that it is to be placed on sale for human consumption?

A.—Of course not. The ceilings in question apply to the sale of horse meat to fox ranches and others for animal feeding.

Q.—I entertained two soldiers for a weekend and they left me their ration application cards. Do I cash these at my store?

A.—No. They are merely application cards and not ration documents to be accepted by merchants. They should be exchanged at your Local Ration Board for coupons covering the rationed food of your choice. These coupons should be presented to your dealer.

Q.—I operate a small truck occasionally. Is it necessary for me to have signs on the truck giving my name and address?

A.—Yes. Signs should be painted on both sides of the truck and should give the name and address of the truck owner.

Q.—Are the "D" coupons that can be obtained for corn syrup on the surrender of sugar coupons good for my three-year-old girl?

A.—The extra ration for corn syrup is for babies under two years of age, however, if for medical reasons the child requires additional corn syrup in her diet after she is two years old, this could be obtained if a signed medical certificate was presented to a Local Ration Board.

Please send your questions or requests for further pamphlets "Consumers' News" or the Blue Book (the book in which you keep track of your rationing) mentioning the name of this paper to: Wartime Prices and Trade Board, Regina, Sask., or your nearest Wartime Prices and Trade Board office.

SMILE AWHILE

"What do the three balls in front of a pawnshop mean?"
"Two to one you don't get it back."

Father: "Johnny, do you know that it's wrong for a little boy to fight?"
Johnny: "Yes, Dad, but Billie doesn't know it and I'm provin' it to him."

Mother: "Robert, I'm shocked to hear you using such language. Do you learn it at school?"
Robert: "Learn it at school? No, Mom; it's me that teaches it to the other boys!"

"So you're a young man with both feet on the ground, eh? What do you do for a living?"
"I take orders from a man with both feet on the desk."

"Why did you go to Dr. Frost?"
"Well, Dr. Gile had 10 to 1 on his door, and Dr. Frost had 3 to 5, so I took the best odds I could get!"

First Spook: "What's that bump on your head?"
Second Spook: "I was coming through the keyhole as usual when some ass put the key in."

Inquiring Friend: "Why must a judge look so impassive?"
His Honor: "If you show any signs of interest in a lawyer's argument he'll never stop."

Corporal: "You say you were restricted because you went on a furlough? You mean furlough."
Private: "No, I mean furlough—I went too far and stayed too long."

I heard two girls talking in a bus and one said: "Do you think Alice can keep a secret?"
"Oh, yes," the other one said. "She never tells who told her!"

"What were those unusual greens we had tonight, Cook?"
"You remember, ma'am, you said those gorgeous lilies in the garden looked so lovely you could eat them?"

"Yes."
"Well, you have!"

Mirrors Too Have Gone To War In A Big Way

"Oops, seven days had luck, I guess." How familiar is this ejaculation when someone breaks a mirror.

The seven days had luck superstition goes back many years. The Romans believed that health moved in seven year cycles. As a mirror reflected the appearance of an individual, they thought that if a mirror broke that meant the health of the person was broken too, for seven years.

Mirrors as they are known today were invented by the Venetians early in the 15th century. In the 17th century the process of silvering glass was brought to England. In those early days, this process was such a closely guarded secret that any person breaking into a mirror factory was punished from the king-ford for seven years. This is another version of how the superstition arose. The first mirror was a quiet pool in which ancient man saw his own likeness. The early Greeks made their mirrors of polished bronze while the people of Egypt gazed at their own reflection in highly polished metal bowls.

But today mirrors are not used only to see if milady's nose is in need of powdering. Mirrors, too, have gone to war. They are used in the manufacture of telescopes and microscopes. When a British or American submarine lets loose a "tin-fish," blowing an enemy ship out of the water, it is through a mirror reflection that the submarine-periscope works. Fast action cameras which Canadian forces use in reconnaissance have mirrors in the range finders. Reports say that a German fighter brought down in the Battle of Britain had a cabin lined with mirrors. These gave the pilot a reflection of all oncoming fighters.

INDIA'S RICE CROP

According to the first all-India rice forecast, India's total rice crop will be a record one, exceeding 25,500,000 tons, as against her pre-war consumption figure of 27,500,000 tons, made up of 26,000,000 tons produced in the country, and 1,500,000 tons imported from Burma.

A Bargain In Bread

Supposing you went to the grocer's tomorrow and saw a sign over the bread display that read—

SPECIAL TODAY

Extra Vitamin B1 Calcium and Iron

—FREE with each loaf

could you resist a bargain like that? Yet that very bargain is offered, though not advertised, every day in every store where whole grain bread is sold alongside white. The same bargain can be picked up among the cereals too, for whole grain cereals provide those same extra food elements. Canadians are being urged to eat more bread. If we are to do so we should make sure it is bread rich in vitamins. Such is real whole wheat bread.

Adult daily requirement of Thiamin or Vitamin B1 is placed at a minimum of 500 International Units. Generous use of real whole wheat bread helps secure this essential, as it is the richest bread source of B1. A single slice of it yields 20 I.U., while a slice of refined bread yields only one sixth the vitamin potency—5 I.U.

Recent surveys show the average Canadian diet low in calcium content—yet in respect to calcium, the use of whole wheat bread can step up the family's supply of this important mineral by 6%, which may make the difference between an adequate daily supply and a diet below par in this respect.

Moreover, whole wheat bread has more nicotinic acid and iron than has white bread or enriched bread.

Don't forget what a great deal more you get for your money when you buy whole wheat bread!

Contributing To Victory For Eczema—Skin Troubles

Many of Edison's inventions Being Used In Present War
February 11, marked the 97th anniversary of the birth of Thomas Alva Edison. During his life, Edison was a man of peace, and his inventions led to better living. His contributions to industrial progress helped pave the way to a more abundant and comfortable life for millions of people. And the basis of his work was research aimed at and intended to produce this result.

However, upon this anniversary of his birth, the people of the world find that they must rank him as one of the great warriors in the present global conflict. Years ago he invented a tin tube in which he produced the "Edison effect". We know it now as the fundamental discovery from which has sprung the science of electronics, with its myriad uses. It is one of the greatest weapons of war, but not the only invention of Edison's that is contributing to victory. Through all the uses of electricity, right down to the huge plants where it is produced, the works of Edison are evident. On ships at sea, in the giant bombers, in the communication systems that save countless lives in the Asiatic jungles, in the defence networks of England—in any theatre of war activity—major devices and implements are to be found which had their origin in the mind of Thomas Edison—Kingston Whig-Standard.

In the last war, Britain put into the field an army of 5,000,000. In the present war, her manpower effort as regards the Army, Navy and Air Force is very much greater. In addition, the output of her war factories today dwarfs production of 1918. This achievement has been possible only by using the services of her women-folk on a scale which far surpasses that of any other belligerent—including Germany.

THE FIGHTING FRONT
Great Britain has a population of 43,000,000 and is an island situated, at its nearest point, within 20-odd miles of the German army. Those two simple and well-known facts carry implications which are worth reflection at the present juncture of war.

HUNDREDS OF PERSONNEL OF ARMED FORCES FROM CANADA HAVE LANDED SAFELY IN BRITAIN

AN EAST COAST CANADIAN PORT.—Thickly interspersed with experts going back to "give a hand" with the invasion of western Europe, hundreds of soldiers and airmen who left this port aboard a large Allied transport, have arrived in Britain, it was announced.

Reinforcements and replacements for almost every branch of the Canadian army were aboard the pre-war luxury liner. Accompanying soldiers and airmen of the Dominion were scores of fliers and army personnel from other parts of the empire and Allied nations, including a large draft of United States soldiers. A group of W.R.C.N.S. also sailed.

Lieut. Percy Darlington of Edmonton—who was in France in the brief stay of the 1st division Canadian soldiers there before the fall of that country in June, 1940—was one going back to the scene of battle. Besides France, he had also been in Italy and came back to Canada eight months ago to instruct fellow Canadians.

Taking their return more than any one else on board ship as a sure sign of the invasion and that "hell might be let loose at any moment," were a group of sergeant instructors, returning to England after a few months of instructing in Canada. Most members of the group had previous long stays in England, ranging from two to nearly four years. Senior among them was Sgt.-Maj. Jen. MacMillan of the Calgary Highlanders.

Two newspapermen going overseas to cover the impending invasion were Ralph Allen, war correspondent of the Toronto Globe and Mail, and Charles B. Lynch, formerly of Saint John, N.B., who recently joined Reuters, British news agency.

A group of paratroopers aboard ship included A. C. Skelley, Whitefox, Sask.

A former newspaperman-air going overseas for the first time was LAC Charles Lavenan, one-time sports writer for the Winnipeg Free Press.

CONQUERED LANDS

Germany Is Exploiting Big Part Of Occupied Territory

LONDON.—The Germans now are exploiting part of their conquered domain at a rate equivalent to about $10,400,000,000 annually, the House of Commons was told by Dingle M. Foot, parliamentary secretary to the ministry of economic warfare.

In a written reply to a question, he said the estimate did not include any data on losses against occupied parts of Russia, Greece and Luxembourg or those parts of Poland, France and Belgium which have been incorporated into the Reich.

REPAIRING TIRPITZ

Germans Are Making Effort To Get Battleship Home

STOCKHOLM.—The Germans are making new efforts to get the damaged 51,000-ton German battleship "Tirpitz" seaworthy and bring her home to finish repairs, according to usually reliable reports from Norway. These reports say the ship has been sent to Keflavik in Altona, where the ship has been anchored since she was damaged by British midget submarines in September.

WATCHED TROOPS

King George Sees Men Making Ready For Coming Invasion

SOMEWHERE IN ENGLAND.—Live shells screamed overhead as the King watched British troops prepare for the forthcoming European invasion during a two-day visit to army units.

The battles were so realistic that at one time His Majesty, with a divisional commander and his staff, had to take cover behind a pile of tree trunks as massive explosions sent showers of earth over their heads.

BETTER VARIETY

Development Of New Type Of Durum Wheat Is Announced

WINNIPEG.—A new variety of Durum wheat, having outstanding agronomic and quality characteristics, has been developed by the associate committee on grain research in convention here. The new variety is a called Carleton, the committee said in a statement which recommended the variety to be increased for early distribution and classified as high grade Durum wheat.

Experiments in the study of glycol production by fermentation of wheat, the statement declared, showed that butadiene, a constituent of synthetic rubber, could be produced from wheat more easily with glycol than with alcohol as an intermediate step.

Glycol is also used as an anti-freeze and in production of synthetic chemicals.

The need for producing new varieties of flax and sunflower seed with a higher yield of oil and superior quality was emphasized by the committee's statement which added experimental studies in oil seeds were progressing at the University of Saskatchewan.

RATION REDUCED

Prices Board Says Cut In Butter Is Temporary Measure

OTTAWA.—The prices board announced a "temporary" reduction will be made in Canada's butter ration in March by postponing the dates upon which two butter ration coupons become valid.

Board officials said the reduction per person for March will amount to eight ounces, effected by postponing the dates of coupons 54 and 55, which normally would become valid March 16, to March 23 and March 30, respectively. Thereafter, until further notice, coupons will become valid at intervals of one week. At present, coupons are valid in pairs every two weeks.

Each coupon is good for eight ounces of butter.

NOT MUCH SUCCESS

Japanese Trying To Salvage Repulse And Prince Of Wales

CHUNGKING.—Marcus Cheng, Chinese evangelist who escaped from Singapore late last year, said the Japanese were striving to salvage the British warships Repulse and Prince of Wales sunk off the coast of Malaya in 1941, but have had little success.

Cheng said the Japanese short, age of shipping was reflected in the failure of Japanese-made goods to appear in Malaya. Nor have they been able to export rubber, huge quantities of which lie idle and unused.

He said British-led guerrillas, operating from the jungle, were a sore trial to the Japanese. The guerrillas were reported well-equipped and well organized. They include Britons, Australians, Indians and Chinese. The largest number are Chinese who have joined to avoid conscription by the Japanese, he said.

Cheng said Japanese policy toward white prisoners was and is one of deliberate degradation.

LIGHTS IN LONDON

LONDON.—The lights of London shone again recently for the first time in 4½ years of war-enforced blackout when a dust-laden cloud of fog descended in mid-afternoon. For nearly an hour thousands of lights gleamed from office buildings and shop windows. Security regulations prevented previous mention of the fog.

Allies Are Not Ready Yet To Invade Europe

LONDON.—Why don't we hurl large forces across the channel and end the war?

This is a question many Britons and Americans are asking. The blunt answer is: "Because the Germans might fling them right back at us."

If just the opening of a western front would bring victory, it would be a different question, but it is going to take weeks and months of the bloodiest kind of fighting on the continent before Hitler collapses.

Because this task is more than one of a mere landing of 50 divisions. In the average man's mind a division means about 15,000 men. But the experience in Africa, Sicily and Italy indicates that to supply one fighting man at the front it takes from four to eight behind the front.

The longer men must fight on foreign soil the more essential do the behind-the-lines soldiers become as the war moves away from the ports and supply becomes more complex. Therefore, a division to a military man means handling not 15,000 men, but 60,000 or more. Once they are ashore, it takes tons of shipping to keep them going.

This is known as the "tail" of an army.

When one recognizes that the Germans have been able to boost their strength along the West Wall to 60 divisions it is easy to understand the determination of the Allied high command not to move until it is certain that the punch will carry through to victory.

Despite countless thousands of dead left in Russia, the German army must suffer much more killing before a collapse comes. Their reserves have been drained almost dry by the Russian front but their frontline strength is almost as formidable as ever, and not until the decimated divisions cannot be replaced is the end near for Hitler.

LONDON.—Allied notables attended a Red army reception in the Russian embassy and toasted the 26th anniversary of Russia's fighting force in vodka and hot spiced wine.

OBSERVERS INSIDE GERMANY SAY THAT DEFEAT OF NAZIS MUST BE BY FORCE OF ARMS

IRUN, Spain.—American diplomats, on which competent observers of the newspapermen and relief workers left Germany after 13 months of internment with this generally expressed opinion:

Germany can be defeated on the actual field of battle although morale in that country actually has been strengthened during the last six months.

This conclusion is based on observation of the behavior of the Germans with whom members of the interned group have been in contact at Baden Baden, the careful reading of the German press on the spot and other means of Nazi propaganda.

One of the most striking points to an observer inside Germany is the fact that the defeat of the Nazis must come through the defeat of their armed forces.

The total effect has been to strengthen the morale to resist, rather than to give up.

CONTRACT BEING NEGOTIATED WITH BRITAIN TO TAKE ALL CHEESE CANADA CAN SUPPLY

OTTAWA.—Agriculture Minister Gardiner announced in the commons that a contract is being negotiated under which Britain will take all the cheese Canada can provide during the next two years.

Mr. Gardiner outlined government policies for dairy products during the year starting next May 1, and announced subsidies to be paid for fluid milk, cheese, butter and concentrated whole milk.

The new subsidy levels will be on a lower plane for the first five months of the year starting May 1 than they were during the last seven months of the preceding year, the minister said, but in the last seven months of 1944-45 they will be on the same level as in the corresponding months of 1943-44.

Any surpluses of butter or canned milk which may result from the dairy policies can be marketed in Britain, he said.

Authority is being taken through the food board to direct plants to depend on the same sources for milk supply as in a previous year, the minister announced.

The 1944-45 subsidies from May 1 to Sept. 30 will be 35 cents for 100 pounds except in some areas where it will remain at 25 cents, the price paid in the same months last year. Other subsidies for the May 1-Sept. 30 period, with amounts paid in the same months in 1943-44 in brackets, follow:

Milk for cheese, 20 cents per 100 pounds (nil); butter, 10 cents a pound (butterfat eight cents a pound) (butterfat paid from May 1 to Dec. 31); concentrated whole milk, 15 cents a 100 pounds (nil).

"We think these subsidies, along with the floor under prices already provided through our agreements and otherwise for dairy products, should result, if weather is favorable, in a record production in dairy products in 1944," the minister said.

"We, therefore, feel justified in urging the highest possible production of cheese in the cheese-producing areas, the highest possible production of butter in the butter-producing areas, the utilization of duplex plants for cheese in summer and butter in fall and winter seasons where duplex plants exist, and the production of whole milk tributary to cities and processing plants turning out commodities desired in our war effort."

MAY CHANGE RULING

Air Cadets Might Be Permitted To Fly This Summer

OTTAWA.—Air Minister Power said that he would discuss with R.C.A.F. training authorities the possibility of permitting members of the Air Cadet League of Canada to fly next summer.

Maj. Power, attending the fourth annual meeting of the league's officers and directors here, said one difficulty was the question of possible accidents to boys while flying.

The R.C.A.F. has been so "pushed" in its own training work that there had not been much time to devote to training flights for air cadets even had they been permitted to fly. The situation might be eased somewhat this coming summer.

CHILE ARRESTS SPIES

SANTIAGO, Chile.—Chilean authorities, climaxing an 18-month investigation of German under-cover activities here at the instigation of the U.S. state department, have arrested two alleged leaders and 12 members of a vast Axis spy ring and were searching for nearly 100 others believed involved in the widespread network.

CHANGE IN REGULATIONS

OTTAWA.—All ranks of the army and C.W.A.C. now may wear civilian clothes on leave of seven days or more, army headquarters said. Previously army personnel could only wear clothing other than uniform for sports requiring special dress. The change in the regulations was announced in a recent routine order.

The Stranger

An officer giving a lecture in an army classroom suddenly turned upon a man aimlessly looking about the room.

Pointing an accusing finger the officer barked: "What is the Dowe decimal system used for?"

The man looked wonderingly at him. "I dunno."

Exasperated, the officer demanded: "What's your organization, soldier?"

"Haven't got any mister," the man replied. "I'm just the Ooca-Cola man here to refill the machine, wherever it is."

NOTES AND COMMENTS

TO PROMOTE CENTRAL HOSPITAL IDEA

Since our boost for a Central Hospital in the Pass a few weeks ago a committee of three has been set up by the miners' unions in the three towns of Coleman, Blairmore and Bellevue. This committee is now quietly laying the groundwork by gathering detailed information on a number of points. Once this information has been acquired it is planned to contact various representative bodies in the Pass and have a round table gathering to discuss the Central Hospital idea.

Meantime it would be a good idea to get the viewpoints of various citizens and in order to foster discussion The Journal extends an invitation to readers to use its columns to express their views on this important subject.

COUNCIL DENOUNCES BEER RESTRICTIONS

Coleman town council has gone on record as opposing the beer restrictions as at present imposed by the Mackenzie King government. This last ruling made by the Alberta Liquor Control Board that those who purchased beer on their permit during February would not be eligible for beer in March has really created increased dissatisfaction. Council asked the King government to lift the restrictions pertaining to beer or equalize the provincial quotas so that each province will share alike. It is our candid opinion that the prime minister should have left beer regulations strictly alone. It is he who is directly to blame for men and women lining up at liquor stores waiting to secure their monthly quota, and also the fact that one out of every two persons in Alberta owned a liquor permit in 1943. It is to be hoped that the pressure being brought to bear on him from all sections of the Dominion will cause him to modify if not remove restrictions on the sale of beer.

NEW BLOOD REQUIRED

New blood is required to help promote community effort. A town that stands still soon falls behind its neighbors. Coleman has been marching stride by stride with other progressive towns in Southern Alberta but it could do with the help of some new blood to promote additional community effort. A number of men give their time and energy almost nightly to keep the town to the fore and regardless of what name an organization may be called it is the same old gang who can usually be seen around the meeting table.

There are many former high school students, who, since starting to work have quietly dropped from the scene as far as community effort is concerned. They had ability and energy in high school activities. Then why not give the town the benefit of that ability and energy which they no doubt still possess. Let them enter into community activities and in due course take leading roles. They can be assured that they will be welcomed with open arms by those who are carrying on at the present time.

Theatre Notes

At the Palace tonight and Friday comes the Great Gildersleeve. Many of our local citizens listen each Sunday evening to Gildy and his talented cast and they all appear in this picture entitled "The Great Gildersleeve". It is a good comedy. The second feature is a crime play "The Falcon's Brother".

"The Powers Girl" starring Anne Shirley, Carole Landis and George Murphy come to the Palace this week-end.

A good double bill is featured this week-end at Blairmore. "Johnny Comes Marching Home" features Allan Jones, Jane Frazer and Spitalny and his Hour of Charm all Girl orchestra. It is a splendid musical production. The second feature is a thrilling Sherlock Holmes story starring Basil Rathbone and Nigel Bruce.

If all the good intentions in the world were put end to end they would still get us nowhere. But if half of them were put to work they would reach to a new era.

Apply NOW for your
New Gasoline Licenses and Ration Coupon Books

On March 31, the present gasoline licenses and ration coupon books will expire. After that date no gasoline will be sold except on the presentation of a 1944-45 ration book.

In his own interests, every vehicle owner is asked to apply at once for a new license and ration coupon book for each of his vehicles. Application forms must be completed in detail.

Commencing April 1, under the 1944-45 rationing plan, the operation of which will be basically the same as that now in effect, all non-commercial vehicle owners will again be allowed a basic "AA" gasoline license and ration coupon book, containing 40 units for a passenger car, or 16 for a motorcycle.

Similarly, owners of vehicles eligible for a "Special" category, who can prove their need, will be granted an extra vocational allowance, fixed in advance for the year ending March 31, 1945. In determining the extra allowance — which will be measured to individual needs — the previous category and mileage of the car will not necessarily be an important consideration.

The extra vocational coupons will again be issued in books labelled "Special", and each book will contain not more than 60 units. To permit constant review of the needs of each category applicant, only one "Special" book, or portion thereof, will be issued at a time. The Oil Controller also has the right to refuse any application for a "Special" category, or to suspend any ration coupon book for an infraction of the regulations.

The shortage of gasoline is still acute. Do not apply for a "Special" category unless your need is urgent.

Gasoline for commercial vehicles will again be rationed. To assure themselves sufficient gasoline to carry on normal business activities after March 31, operators of commercial vehicles are urged to complete at once and in detail the required application for each of their vehicles.

On and after April 1, service station attendants will not accept gasoline ration coupons unless the license plate number of the motor vehicle for which they were issued is written in ink on each coupon. Every motor vehicle must also display on its windshield a 1944-45 sticker indicating the category of the coupon book submitted at the time of the purchase.

If the owner of a motor vehicle sells, transfers or disposes of it in any way, it is his obligation to see that the gasoline license and ration coupon book for that vehicle is returned immediately to the nearest Regional Oil Control Office.

To obtain a gasoline license and ration coupon book, secure an application form at your nearest Post Office. Study the form and follow carefully the instructions contained therein.

When you receive your 1944-45 gasoline ration book, guard it carefully. Do not leave it in your car. If, because of your negligence, it is lost or stolen, it may not be replaced.

Further Restriction on Use of Paper

A limit has been set by the administrator of Publishing, Printing and Allied Industries, limiting the amount of newsprint paper to be used. The Journal is therefore limited to just sufficient to meet its present circulation, based on 1943 records, and no subscription under the new ruling can be permitted to run over more than three months. Paper conservation has become very necessary, and in the United States large newspapers and magazines are feeling the restriction to such extent that some are not taking any new subscribers, accepting renewals only from those already on their lists, while others have curtailed the size of the papers to about half of the former size.

In the six months ended October 29, Mosquito bombers made about a thousand "nuisance raids" on some thirty German industrial cities. They attacked Cologne 33 times, Berlin 27 times, Duisburg 26 times and Düsseldorf 16 times. Of the Mosquitoes taking part in the attacks, only eleven are missing. Although the Mosquito's speed has never been officially made known, it is reckoned the fastest bomber in the world. A Swiss report puts its speed at 430 miles an hour, or just over seven miles a minute.

C.P.R. LOCOMOTIVES IN ART

The tempo of wartime activity in a great railway shop and ocean liners sailing peacefully over calm waters present an interesting study in contrasts at an exhibit of oil paintings by Adrien Hebert, R.C.A., now on display in the Osborne street entrance show cases of the Canadian Pacific Railway's Windsor station at Montreal.

These subjects, rarely associated with the realm of art, have been given effective and interesting treatment by Mr. Hebert. One of the more vital operations of the shop men in wartime—the overhauling of hard-working locomotives—has been forcefully portrayed in two of the paintings, one of which is shown in the accompanying illustration while the shops' flaming forges with their attendant blacksmiths hard at work, inspired the theme of two others.

Other features of the exhibit include colorful portrayals of Canadian Pacific liners shown peacefully at anchor in Montreal Harbor or sailing sufficiently close to port to show an effective background of smaller ships or landscape.

Born in Paris, of Canadian parentage, Mr. Hebert began his career at an early age. A fellow of the Royal Society of Arts and Manufactures of London, he has exhibited at the Spring Exhibition in Montreal and at the Royal Canadian Academy, having been elected an academician in 1941. One of his pictures was acquired by the Havre Museum, and another by the Musée de Nîmes, during a Paris exhibition of his works.

Mr. Hebert has other pictures in Le Musée de la Province de Québec, one belonging to the Art Association of Montreal, one in the National Gallery at Ottawa, and others in private collections.

Under Lend-Lease

British and American Supply Officials Agree On Limiting Shipments

Virtual elimination of capital goods shipments to Britain under lend-lease is understood to have been agreed upon by British and American supply officials at Washington. The decision is one of numerous adjustments being made to keep lend-lease exports closely geared to military needs.

For several months the quantity of machinery going to Britain has been decreasing steadily, largely because British plants now have about all they need except for occasional replacements.

The approaching climax of the war in Europe has accentuated the policy of limiting all lend-lease supplies to those needed primarily for war purposes. Lend-lease officials apparently are determined not to leave themselves open to Congressional criticism that they have supplied other countries equipment having more use in the post-war period than during the war.

SELECTED RECIPES

CASSEROLE OF BEEF

- 2 tablespoons corn starch.
- 1 1/2 lbs. round steak, cubed
- 2 tablespoons maza
- 1 medium-size onion, chopped
- 1 cup boiling water
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1-16 teaspoon pepper
- 1/2 cup diced carrots
- 1 cup diced raw potato

Method: Dust meat cubes with corn starch; sear in hot maza. Add onion, cook and stir until golden brown. Add boiling water and simmer, tightly covered, until almost tender. Add seasonings and diced vegetables; continue cooking 20 minutes. Pour into 1 1/2 quart casserole oiled with maza, cover with a tea-bag and bake in hot oven (450 degrees F.) for 15 minutes. Serve 6.

FRENCH TEA RINGS

Make dough as for rolls or buns. Roll out to thin sheet, spread with melted butter, sprinkle with chopped nuts and brown sugar. Roll up like jelly roll, form into ring and cut neatly through with scissors, making cuts one inch apart. Place on a greased tin sheet and allow to rise until doubled in bulk. Bake slowly in moderate oven.

Set basin of hot water at bottom of oven.

OUR COMPLETE SHORT STORY—

Cup Of Gold

— By —
GEORGE JAMES MARTIN
McClure Newspaper Syndicate

His throat burned. He'd had no water since yesterday when he hit the Bad Lands, just beating the sheriff over the Mexican line.

The soldado on this side might be after him, too. He hadn't robbed the cash drawer in the beanery where he'd been counterman; must have been the manager who took the dough. That was why the skunk had had him slapped into jail. What chance had an ex-con like himself to explain that the manager had used him for a fall guy?

He'd busted out of that pest-ridden cell. With no food, water, or horse, he was lucky to get this far. It might be smart to climb this next rise, keep low and have a look around.

This was luck—that house below, sprawling in all that green growing stuff. Must be water there. . . . Had the rancho been warned about him? He must chance it.

Warily nearing the hacienda, he approached a man with a flowing white mane, who wore a broad-brimmed jacket above trousers which clung at the knee and dangled at the ankle. On closer view he saw an aquiline nose and piercing eyes set off by white skin bespeaking aristocratic Spanish ancestry.

The ranch owner smiled benignly. "Buenos dias, amigo. You are American?" "Then, understandingly, "Water, sir?" He called to a peon: "Juan, bring water!"

Gulping the cool draught, craftily watching the peon make a spirited report to his employer, he deduced that a town lay in the direction the peon was pointing.

"Ah—you feel better, Señor. May we offer you our hospitality? You will dine with us. Enter, Señor, enter!"

It was a good dinner and he wolfed it hungrily. He realized that he must have stumbled upon one of the last feudal ranches.

"You are safe here for as long as you need shelter," the old man said. "You are weary now. We will talk tomorrow. This night you will rest here. Juan will show you to your bedroom."

Upstairs he took the perfumed candle from Juan and shut the door on the peon's: "Buenos noches, Señor."

He put his nearly empty wallet under the pillow. As he removed his shirt his hand brushed the mantel-piece, tipping a chalice-like cup, spilling its contents. With amazement he saw gold coins rolling across the hardwood floor, clattering in all directions. One of them continued to spin under the bed. Groping for it, he prayed that no one heard. Maybe the old gent was setting him up for a cover, as in the manager's case. No, he decided, it was the way the cards were falling. This time he'd have the game as well! These Mexicans—leaving gold lying around so carelessly. They didn't know what to do with it. Well, he knew what to do with it all right. It was a shame he had to rob such a nice guy, but this gold meant certain escape for him.

He must leave while everyone was yet asleep. He would head for the town—buy a horse and supplies—make the hideout before the old man discovered the theft.

He wrapped the gold in a scarf and wadded it into his shirt. That stuff was staying right next to him from now on, he thought, as he rolled on his side to the satisfying clink of the metal. . . .

Long before dawn he slipped furtively from his window and headed westward.

Morning heat beat down upon him. He'd scale that boulder up there—catch a glimpse of the town. But he saw only desert stretching to the horizon. That was what he got for following the peon's vague pointing. He should have stopped to take water from the rancho.

Hearing hoof beats, he turned to see Juan riding toward him. That cowboy must be a great tracker to overtake him so quickly. Well, he would keep the gold and get a horse to boot! He'd jump Juan as he rode by the rock. Better cache the gold just in case. . . .

As he leaned over to swing the bundle under the other side of the boulder, a sun-rotted projection crumbled under his weight and he pitched forward to land with a sharp snap of bone as the peon clattered by.

Now he'd never catch that Juan. A good thing he still had the gold. That fire ball up there in the sky was cooking his brain, but he wouldn't let this filthy desert lick him.

His parched throat hurt when he shouted. He'd better concentrate on following the hoof tracks leading away before him. The gold grew heavier with each step. This was his punishment for repaying the old man's kindness by robbing him.

C'mon, pick up those feet. Keep 'em moving! Reminded him of that jail stretch, marching this way. Better get hold of himself. Couldn't be much farther. That must be the town where the hoof prints veered around and over the foot hill. Easy now, he'd have to be conscious when he hit the town or some Johnny'd roll him for the gold he'd suffered so to keep.

He staggered over the hill and saw the back of a ranch house, a horse corral. Gold would buy a horse and outfit cheap from these Mexicans. He'd have to run—crawl—to the house. Hurry! Get water! Cool, sweet water on his face, his eyes, his mouth.

"Oh, rancher, amigo—help me!" he croaked.

Clawing at feet hugging legs he looked up into the eyes of the hacienda he'd robbed!

"Water, Señor! Here is your gold—take it. For God's sake forgive me!"

"You do not need forgiveness, Señor. It is the custom of our people to leave a cup of gold in the guest room for wayfarers to help themselves on their journey. The gold is yours, amigo, for the taking. . . . But, Señor, you left your wallet here. . . . Juan went after you to return it."

Names Successor

Man Hitler Selected Is Most Ruthless Nazi Of All

According to Stockholm reports, which may be taken as well-informed, Hitler recently held a Berchtesgaden conference at which he indicated Martin Bormann as his nominee for the Fuhrership in case anything happened to himself. Whether this is a hint that Hitler contemplates hara-kiri, which he has frequently stated would be his resort in extremity, anybody is at liberty to guess. His selected triumvirate in the event of his own demise, consists of Bormann, as Number One, with Goering and Himmler.

Bormann's reputation is a sinister one. He is reputed, by those who know about him, the most ruthless Nazi of them all. His present task is disciplining Germany's dangerous home-front gang of millions of conscripted foreign workers. These are said to total over twelve millions, and they have been showing signs of restiveness. Bormann's plans for handling them are as drastic as his reputation suggests. He is 44, an atheist, and is described as "a chunky little man with thin black hair." He will undoubtedly look his best on a gallows.

GARDEN NOTES

The Start Is Vital

If there is any secret of success to victory gardening, and this applies also to the other kind, then it is probably an early and thorough start, and though there may still be snow on the ground and actual spring weeks away, the experts say that it is not too soon to start planning.

Probably a million Canadians gardened for the first time last year and some of them, it is feared, were only moderately happy about the results. They ran into a great deal of trouble with weeds, twitch grass and baking earth. The bulk of this could have been avoided had there been a little planning, and especially cultivation, before the seeds were planted. It is easy to kill weeds by digging or cultivating before anything is planted and the soil too is improved. Simply plowing a Victory Garden is not enough. It should be cultivated deep and fine and, if possible, well fertilized, if maximum results are to be expected.

Take Little Room

Easily the biggest yielding crop one can grow are the garden vegetables. Not only can most lines be grown close together but with some things like radish, spinach, lettuce and carrots, for instance, a second crop can be harvested in a single season.

Small vegetables like lettuce and radish require rows only 15 inches apart. Beets, beans, carrots, peas and spinach need a little more space between, while potatoes, corn and stalked tomatoes must have a couple of feet to thirty inches. Space may be saved with the latter type if something quick maturing such as lettuce and spinach are planted in between. The bigger things will not need the full room at first, and by the time they do the early crops will be out of the way.

If room is extremely limited, then experts advise confining vegetables to such heavy yielders as beans, lettuce, carrots, beets, onions, celery and, possibly, stalked tomatoes. A 20-foot row of any of these will supply many meals for a small family. The expert who appreciates garden freshness will also include peas and corn. These things take up no more room, and at least 25 feet of row is needed for a worthwhile crop, but only from the garden right at the back can really fresh corn and peas be obtained.

Now Grass Early

Any work with lawns should be started just as quickly in the spring as possible. This does not mean that the soil should be worked while it is still wet. But once one can walk over the ground without getting his shoes muddy, then the rake should be brought into play. In both new lawns or in patching, the soil should be raked fine and level. Authorities advise sowing mixtures of the highest quality of seed mixtures, as thick as directions specify and, of course, when there is no wind blowing.

Both new and old lawns benefit from rolling while the ground is still soft. Grass, like any other plant, needs good soil and an annual application of fertilizer is advisable. This pushes growth so that many weeds are crowded out.

Have Own Orchestra

Peculiar Noises Heard At Sea Found To Be Deep-Sea Denizens

At a naval laboratory at Beaufort, N.C., certain peculiar noises, which have been conjectured to come from submarines in the neighborhood, have been investigated and the result has rather surprised some of the investigators.

They have discovered that most of these peculiar sounds come from fish. One of the fish is called the toad fish, and it has a voice which possesses the intensity of a steamboat whistle.

Another, the croaker, when caught, makes such a loud noise that it can be heard through 20 feet of water. Another, the "drum fish," drums so loudly that it sounds like a heavy thumping on the bottom of a boat.

This information is being supplied to Navy men to enable them to distinguish between these sounds and those made by an enemy submarine.

A sea captain named Preserved Fish was one of New York city's prominent citizens years ago.

German Officers Forbid Sailors To Associate With Norwegians

The morale of German sailors in western Norway is so low that their officers have forbidden them to associate with "undesirables among Norwegians," meaning non-Quislings, according to a private dispatch to Stockholm's Tidningen.

By going about with the Norwegians ever more intimately the German sailors' morale is affected to the extent that they are doubting the righteousness of the German cause, the dispatch said.

In the coastal city of Alesund, headquarters of the Norwegian patriots, the German port captain banned all relations between German sailors and Norwegian civilians, the dispatch added. After nightfall Germans are kept on board ship to insure that they will not be "contaminated" by contact with the Norwegians, it is said.

CONCENTRATED MILKS

"Concentrated Milks" is a general term which was first used to designate products which contained all the solid constituents of milk in reduced volume. These products are evaporated milk, sweetened condensed milk, and dry whole milk. Frequently concentrated by-products are now included in the term, for example, dry skim-milk which contains all the milk solids except fat, and casein which is by-product of skim-milk. —Farm News.
